

Elize van Eeden is an NRF-rated professor of History, and Deputy Director of the School of Social Sciences at the Vanderbijlpark campus of North-West University, South Africa. Her research interests are Regional history (also in multidisciplinary contexts), and ecohealth & well-being research in space specific contexts. She is (co-) author and (co-)editor of more than 100 leading publications in regional histories, including the recent Community Engagement research in South Africa. Histories, Methods, Theories, and Practice (2022) as well as Teaching & Learning History and Geography in the South African Classroom (2018), both published by Van Schaik Publishers.